

Why choose a STEM career?

The average wage for all STEM occupations is $85,570, nearly double the average for all occupations.

STEM degree majors are also twice as likely to be employed after graduation!

What are STEM Career Pathways?

SWTJC has career pathways with several universities that allow for a seamless transition.

By first completing an Associate of Science degree at SWTJC, students can save an average of $40,000 when compared to the cost of the same education at a state or private school!
